Four Pillars of HCI

Design Principles Used: ACCESSIBILITY

- When user first enters the feedback form, they see the following options:
 - Frequently Asked Questions (FAQ) page
 - Dark mode & high contrast toggle controls
 - Font size adjuster options
- All throughout, the site utilizes:
 - Clear labels and instructions with required field indicators
 - Simple and easy to read fonts and colors

Design Principles Used: LOGICAL LAYOUT

Laptop:

The laptop view shows a wide layout. The top navigation bar is red with the Canvas logo and links for Home, Feedback Survey, FAQ, and Settings. Below this, the 'Canvas Feedback Portal' title is displayed. A secondary navigation bar shows 'Home', 'Feedback Survey' (active), and 'FAQ'. The main content area features a 'Canvas Feedback Survey' heading, a descriptive paragraph, a progress bar indicating 'Question 7 of 13', and a dropdown menu for the question 'How often do you experience technical issues or bugs on Canvas? *' with 'Sometimes' selected. At the bottom are 'Previous' and 'Next' buttons.

Phone:

The phone view shows a compact layout. The top navigation bar is red with the Canvas logo and icons for Home, Feedback Survey, FAQ, and Settings. Below this, the 'Canvas Feedback Portal' title is displayed. A secondary navigation bar shows 'Home', 'Feedback Survey' (active), and 'FAQ'. The main content area features a 'Canvas Feedback Survey' heading, a descriptive paragraph, a progress bar indicating 'Question 1 of 13', and a text input field for 'First Name *' with a 'Next' button. The browser address bar shows 'canvas-feedback.w3spaces.com'.

- Description and compact top navigation box
- Questions appear one by one
- Mobile-responsive design
 - Layout adjusts and adapts to screen size on various devices

Design Principles Used:

SUBMISSION FLOW AND FEEDBACK

- Unanswered required fields are highlighted in red
 - Users cannot proceed to the next question until the required field is filled
- User is shown a confirmation message after successful submission
 - Redirect options: submit again or return to Canvas
 - User gets 10 minutes to edit responses before submission is finalized

Tools and Technologies Used

Development Stack:

- Frontend: HTML, CSS, JavaScript
- Backend: Simple server setup
- Deployed website on w3spaces/w3schools platform
- Used same platform to retrieve survey responses and website analytics

The screenshot displays the w3schools Spaces dashboard. The top navigation bar includes links for Tutorials, Exercises, Certificates, Services, and a search bar. Below this, a secondary bar shows Dashboard, Spaces (active), Certificates, Profile, Domains, Pricing, Browse Courses & Exams, For Teachers, For Business, and Logout. The main content area is titled 'My Spaces' with a '+ Create' button and a 'Go Fullstack' link. A table lists the spaces, with one space named 'canvas-feedback' highlighted. The table columns are Space, Requests, Data Transferred, and Storage. Below the table, the 'Free plan' usage statistics are shown, including Requests (11 of 500), Data (2 MB of 25 MB), and Storage (1 MB of 20 MB).

Space	Requests	Data Transferred	Storage
canvas-feedback Connect Domain	11	2.32 MB	1.04 MB

Free plan

- Requests 11 of 500
489 requests remaining on your selected plan.
Requests reset on May 17, 02:11:10 (-04:00).
- Data 2 MB of 25 MB
23 MB data remaining on your selected plan.
Data reset on May 17, 02:11:10 (-04:00).
- Storage 1 MB of 20 MB
19 MB storage remaining on your selected plan.

Usability Testing & Evaluation

- Testing Process: ~ About 2 weeks
- 10 participants: 2 groups consisting of 1 teacher and 4 students each
- Estimated time to complete survey: ~ About 5 minutes
- Data collected using think-aloud protocols and post-survey interviews
- Received positive feedback for:
 - "One question at a time" approach to survey (reducing cognitive load)
 - Accessibility features (especially dark mode and font size options)

Changes Based on Feedback

- 10 minute allowing users to review/edit responses after survey submission
- Enhanced field validation with clearer error messages
- Improved mobile responsiveness for better small screen experiences
- Added progress indicators to help users track their position in the survey

Goals & Future Improvements

Multilingual Support

Make the form accessible in multiple languages.

Follow-Up Mechanism

Notify users when their feedback has been addressed.

Response Summary & Admin Dashboard

Display a summary of users' responses and top user concerns available to the Canvas support team.

Thank you!
